

WHEN YOU THINK OF FURNITURE—THINK OF JACKSON'S

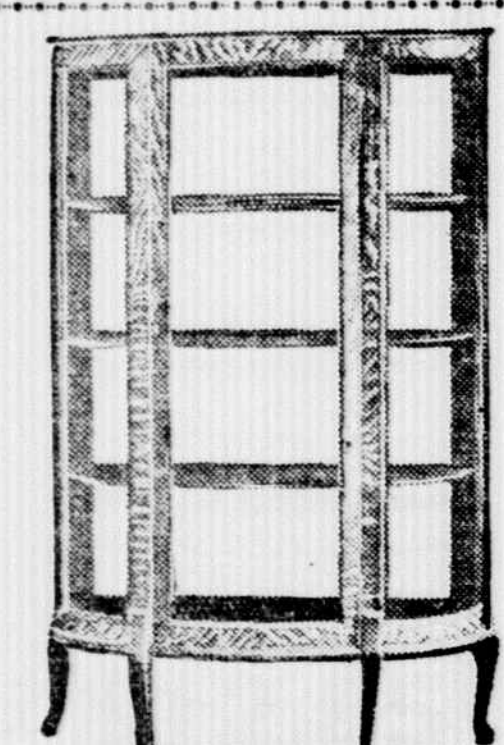

Jackson Bros. Inc.
The Big Store 915 to 925 Seventh Street

GREAT ANNIVERSARY SALE BARGAINS

COME JUST IN TIME TO BENEFIT
PROSPECTIVE JUNE BRIDES.

Crowds of economical housewives and prospective June brides attended our great Anniversary Sale last week and shared in the greatest Furniture Bargains ever offered in Washington. This week we make some more astounding offerings in furniture and add some really startling values in floor coverings. Every line in the house is reduced down to bargain levels. We mention only a few items of the hundreds that await your coming this week.

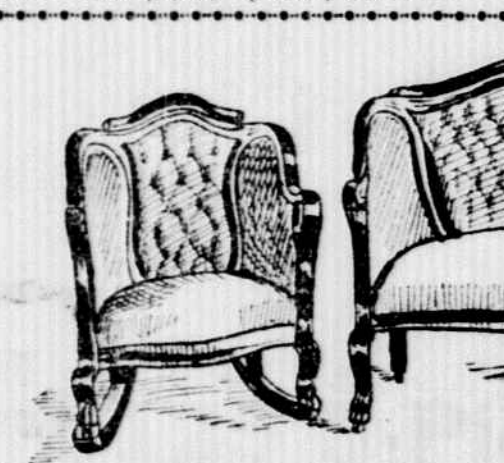

LOWEST PRICES ON RECORD And Yet We Extend OUR NEW METHOD CREDIT
Full Privilege of . . .

$12.85

One-Motion Collapsible GO-CARTS, $10.85

One-motion Collapsible Hooded Go-cart, everything collapses at once, including footboard, latest invention, let us show you. Tan, dark green, drab and brown. Actual value, $20. Special, $10.85.

$125 3-Piece Genuine Mahogany Parlor Suite, Special . . . $79

This is real mahogany—a rich, elegant suite of exquisite design—upholstered in best grade panne.

There is a post card shop down town that appeals to the passer by. A muslin curtained window with flowers on the sill convey a feminine touch, but this is contradicted by prints of presidential candidates tacked on the green brick wall. Magazines that came from household hints to big game add to the puzzle, but it is a green bench that settles the problem.

Any business man can put a bench outside his door, but only a woman could give it a soul. Many people sit down a bit in the course of a day, one of them, for instance, being an old woman who settled herself as if for a good long rest. Customers came and went, but the woman kept her seat and after awhile the corner of the shop came to the door and offered her a newspaper.

"You may like to read while you rest. If you have your glasses with you—"

"The old woman smiled up like a porcupine with its quills spread. "I should like to see your glasses, old man."

"Glasses? Thank you, ma'am, I've never used glasses in my life and my teeth are my own, even if I am over eighty."

"The woman in the door had splendid red hair, but also she had eyes as blue as the sky. "You are luckier than most of us. I know you are, old man. I've got eleven nephews and nieces, all of them well fixed and acting as if they meant well by me, but you can't tell what relations are going to do. As long as I can come and go and attend to myself as I please, I don't know what I should think you are old enough to need one."

"That's all you know about it? I'm as independent as you are, old man. I've got eleven nephews and nieces, all of them well fixed and acting as if they meant well by me, but you can't tell what relations are going to do. As long as I can come and go and attend to myself as I please, I don't know what I should think you are old enough to need one."

"Nobody can count on relations, so I've made my provisions. I thought I'd like, in case I have to go there, so I went one day and took a look. There was one or two things that didn't suit me, so I complained to the legislature and when the members found I was using my plan in case I had to go there, they promised everything should be fixed the way I wanted it by the time I was ready to go—if I had to."

"Nothing like taking time by the forelock," the woman in the doorway said with a cheerful smile as she turned to wait on a customer. "And the old woman gave herself a comfortable hunch which implied a fresh lease on the bench."

"Have you asked St. Anthony to find it?"
"The girl was as dead as a door nail as if the saint were an active member of the police force, but the woman who sat opposite her at the cafe table shook her head."
"No, honey. The truth is, I didn't think of him when I lost the pin and it is too late now. I inquired at the theater next morning, but it hadn't been turned in yet. I must have dropped it coming home that night."
"Well, ask him, anyhow—go on."
"But it was over a month ago."
"Well, it won't hurt to give him a chance, and if it is best for you to have it, you'll get that pin, all right. He's found lots of things for me."
"Very well, honey, I'll ask him."
"Do it now, before you forget." Stop say, suggesting those strawberries and "Dear St. Anthony, please find my pink enamel pin—wasn't it?"
"No, Obedience. It cost a trifle only, but I prized it because I got it in Bermuda. Every thing there is pink with flowers. And what I'll have to do for him if I get it back?"
"Oh, he isn't particular, just so it's a good deed for somebody else. Let me know when you get it, will you?"
"And when the girl, buoyantly confident in her faith, skipped off to a music lesson, and the woman was walking alone in the green silence leading to the old Smithsonian, she said to herself—no, not to herself—
"Confidentially, dear St. Anthony, I don't think you can find it, but that's all right. I deserve to have lost that pin, because I knew the catch was shaky, still, if anybody believed in me as that child believes in you, I'd try my best to make good for her sake."
"And the question is, what will dear St. Anthony do about it?"
A man and his obvious wife were cutting through Lafayette Park. A woman who walked behind them had an eye for the green old trees and the tiny children, like so many blossoms in the grass, but the man in front was entirely and snappishly taken up with some chalk marks on the asphalt path.

$12.90

For This Bamboo Tabouret, Fine Matting Top, Value 49c No Phone or Mail Orders.

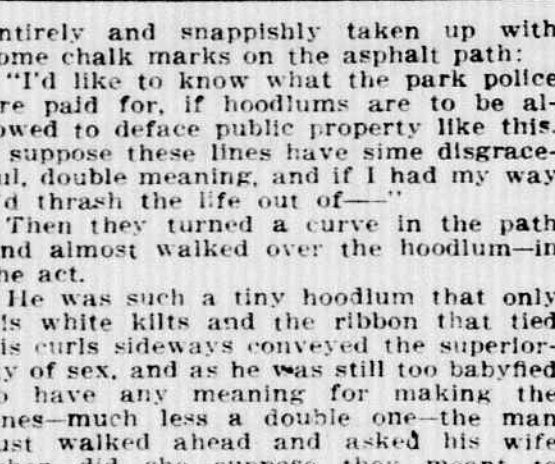

Porch Hammocks Reduced

$29.75

For This Handsome New Design BUFFET, Value $40

Solid quartered oak, beautiful bevel mirror, a high-grade production of elegant finish.

entirely and snappishly taken up with some chalk marks on the asphalt path.

"I'd like to know what the park police are paid for, if hoodlums are to be allowed to deface public property like this. I suppose these lines have some disgraceful, double meaning, and if I had my way I'd thrash the life out of—"

He was such a tiny hoodlum that only his white kilts and the ribbon that tied his curls sideways conveyed the superiority of sex, and he was still too babyfaced to have any meaning for making the lines—much less a double one—the man just walked ahead and asked the wife when she'd she suppose they meant to clean the Jackson statue.

The first move toward making the middle states regatta of next September a huge success was started Wednesday by its sponsor, the Potomac Boat Club, and from now on it is expected the machinery will be kept running constantly.

The committee that went to New York to present the claims of Washington, through its chairman, Claud R. Zappone, made an exhaustive report on the various details of the important aquatic meeting, and stated that it was the consensus of all the rowing men of both the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen, as well as the Middle States Association, that it would be the greatest gathering of oarsmen and scullers America ever has witnessed.

The Middle States Association deemed it wise to defer the ordering of regatta until after the general details of the regatta were worked out, and will not publish it until the morning of July 4, when they will have a meeting at Philadelphia during the time of the annual people's regatta on the Schuylkill river.

President Warden of the Potomacs has appointed the following committees to look after the general details: Regatta committee in general—Charles G. Warden, chairman; Frank Russell Underwood, W. C. McKinney, Richard G. G. B. Zappone, Arthur Bell, Frank McCallahan, E. A. Quintard, L. E. Newman, F. A. McDonald, George A. Herman, Edward Kellogg, H. Brewster, F. R. Underwood, E. R. G. G. A. H. Bowles and Joseph Daly. Course and boats—Mal. Douglas Spencer, chairman; John P. Evans, Wayne Hart, John McKinney, Joseph McGowan, Arthur Bell, John Innie, John Hadley Doyle, Walter Thrall and Samuel Brown.

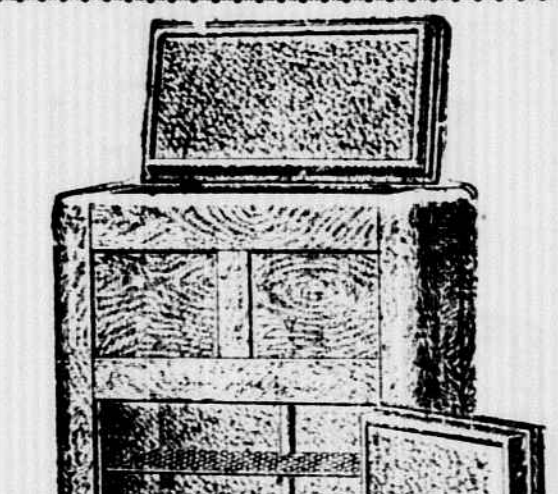

There will be other committees appointed later on to look after other details. The Potomacs will have to raise $250 to finance the regatta to a success, and while this is not a very large sum, yet it will require considerable hustling to get it together.

An excursion in aid of the regatta, on board the steamer Macalester, the entire proceeds going to the regatta fund, is scheduled for June 24.

A mass meeting of the entire club will take place on an early date, when each member will be called on to take on himself some work in order to bring success to the regatta, either the way of raising subscriptions, selling tickets or securing advertisements in the official program.

Capt. John P. Evans of the Potomacs has out four eight-oared crews every night, the majority being new men who are anxious to make the junior boat this season. He also has the intermediate eight-oared crew at work, and they are working with the Philadelphia People's regatta on the Fourth of July in view. Seven of the winning crew of 1911 have taken on training for the event, so Capt. Evans will only have to secure a new man to fill the seat vacated by Hoppe, who is in Panama.

$14.85

Refrigerators $6.85

Lawn Settees Reduced

$14.85

For This Polished Quartered Oak Imperial Leather Seat Dining Chair

Value, $3.00

The biggest Dining Chair bargain in town.

$1.85

For This Dainty Princess Dresser

Value, $24.50

$1.19 Extra Strong Bamboo Table

Matting Top, Special 89c

No phone or mail orders.

$1.85

For This Dainty Princess Dresser

Value, $24.50

$1.19 Extra Strong Bamboo Table

Matting Top, Special 89c

$14.85

Refrigerators $6.85

Lawn Settees Reduced

$14.85

For This Polished Quartered Oak Imperial Leather Seat Dining Chair

Value, $3.00

The biggest Dining Chair bargain in town.

$1.85

For This Dainty Princess Dresser

Value, $24.50

$1.19 Extra Strong Bamboo Table

Matting Top, Special 89c

No phone or mail orders.

$1.85

For This Dainty Princess Dresser

Value, $24.50

$1.19 Extra Strong Bamboo Table

Matting Top, Special 89c

$14.85

Refrigerators $6.85

Lawn Settees Reduced

$14.85

For This Polished Quartered Oak Imperial Leather Seat Dining Chair

Value, $3.00

The biggest Dining Chair bargain in town.

$1.85

For This Dainty Princess Dresser

Value, $24.50

$1.19 Extra Strong Bamboo Table

Matting Top, Special 89c

No phone or mail orders.

$1.85

For This Dainty Princess Dresser

Value, $24.50

$1.19 Extra Strong Bamboo Table

Matting Top, Special 89c

$14.85

Refrigerators $6.85

Lawn Settees Reduced

$14.85

For This Polished Quartered Oak Imperial Leather Seat Dining Chair

Value, $3.00

The biggest Dining Chair bargain in town.

$1.85

For This Dainty Princess Dresser

Value, $24.50

$1.19 Extra Strong Bamboo Table

Matting Top, Special 89c

No phone or mail orders.

$1.85

For This Dainty Princess Dresser

Value, $24.50

$1.19 Extra Strong Bamboo Table

Matting Top, Special 89c

$14.85

Refrigerators $6.85

Lawn Settees Reduced

$14.85

For This Polished Quartered Oak Imperial Leather Seat Dining Chair

Value, $3.00

The biggest Dining Chair bargain in town.

$1.85

For This Dainty Princess Dresser

Value, $24.50

$1.19 Extra Strong Bamboo Table

Matting Top, Special 89c

No phone or mail orders.

$1.85

For This Dainty Princess Dresser

Value, $24.50

$1.19 Extra Strong Bamboo Table

Matting Top, Special 89c

entirely and snappishly taken up with some chalk marks on the asphalt path.

"I'd like to know what the park police are paid for, if hoodlums are to be allowed to deface public property like this. I suppose these lines have some disgraceful, double meaning, and if I had my way I'd thrash the life out of—"

He was such a tiny hoodlum that only his white kilts and the ribbon that tied his curls sideways conveyed the superiority of sex, and he was still too babyfaced to have any meaning for making the lines—much less a double one—the man just walked ahead and asked the wife when she'd she suppose they meant to clean the Jackson statue.

The first move toward making the middle states regatta of next September a huge success was started Wednesday by its sponsor, the Potomac Boat Club, and from now on it is expected the machinery will be kept running constantly.

The committee that went to New York to present the claims of Washington, through its chairman, Claud R. Zappone, made an exhaustive report on the various details of the important aquatic meeting, and stated that it was the consensus of all the rowing men of both the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen, as well as the Middle States Association, that it would be the greatest gathering of oarsmen and scullers America ever has witnessed.

The Middle States Association deemed it wise to defer the ordering of regatta until after the general details of the regatta were worked out, and will not publish it until the morning of July 4, when they will have a meeting at Philadelphia during the time of the annual people's regatta on the Schuylkill river.

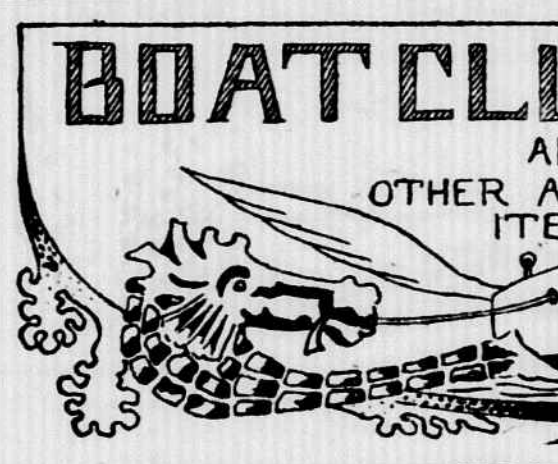

President Warden of the Potomacs has appointed the following committees to look after the general details: Regatta committee in general—Charles G. Warden, chairman; Frank Russell Underwood, W. C. McKinney, Richard G. G. B. Zappone, Arthur Bell, Frank McCallahan, E. A. Quintard, L. E. Newman, F. A. McDonald, George A. Herman, Edward Kellogg, H. Brewster, F. R. Underwood, E. R. G. G. A. H. Bowles and Joseph Daly. Course and boats—Mal. Douglas Spencer, chairman; John P. Evans, Wayne Hart, John McKinney, Joseph McGowan, Arthur Bell, John Innie, John Hadley Doyle, Walter Thrall and Samuel Brown.

There will be other committees appointed later on to look after other details. The Potomacs will have to raise $250 to finance the regatta to a success, and while this is not a very large sum, yet it will require considerable hustling to get it together.

An excursion in aid of the regatta, on board the steamer Macalester, the entire proceeds going to the regatta fund, is scheduled for June 24.

A mass meeting of the entire club will take place on an early date, when each member will be called on to take on himself some work in order to bring success to the regatta, either the way of raising subscriptions, selling tickets or securing advertisements in the official program.

entirely and snappishly taken up with some chalk marks on the asphalt path.

"I'd like to know what the park police are paid for, if hoodlums are to be allowed to deface public property like this. I suppose these lines have some disgraceful, double meaning, and if I had my way I'd thrash the life out of—"

He was such a tiny hoodlum that only his white kilts and the ribbon that tied his curls sideways conveyed the superiority of sex, and he was still too babyfaced to have any meaning for making the lines—much less a double one—the man just walked ahead and asked the wife when she'd she suppose they meant to clean the Jackson statue.

The first move toward making the middle states regatta of next September a huge success was started Wednesday by its sponsor, the Potomac Boat Club, and from now on it is expected the machinery will be kept running constantly.

The committee that went to New York to present the claims of Washington, through its chairman, Claud R. Zappone, made an exhaustive report on the various details of the important aquatic meeting, and stated that it was the consensus of all the rowing men of both the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen, as well as the Middle States Association, that it would be the greatest gathering of oarsmen and scullers America ever has witnessed.

The Middle States Association deemed it wise to defer the ordering of regatta until after the general details of the regatta were worked out, and will not publish it until the morning of July 4, when they will have a meeting at Philadelphia during the time of the annual people's regatta on the Schuylkill river.

President Warden of the Potomacs has appointed the following committees to look after the general details: Regatta committee in general—Charles G. Warden, chairman; Frank Russell Underwood, W. C. McKinney, Richard G. G. B. Zappone, Arthur Bell, Frank McCallahan, E. A. Quintard, L. E. Newman, F. A. McDonald, George A. Herman, Edward Kellogg, H. Brewster, F. R. Underwood, E. R. G. G. A. H. Bowles and Joseph Daly. Course and boats—Mal. Douglas Spencer, chairman; John P. Evans, Wayne Hart, John McKinney, Joseph McGowan, Arthur Bell, John Innie, John Hadley Doyle, Walter Thrall and Samuel Brown.

There will be other committees appointed later on to look after other details. The Potomacs will have to raise $250 to finance the regatta to a success, and while this is not a very large sum, yet it will require considerable hustling to get it together.

An excursion in aid of the regatta, on board the steamer Macalester, the entire proceeds going to the regatta fund, is scheduled for June 24.

A mass meeting of the entire club will take place on an early date, when each member will be called on to take on himself some work in order to bring success to the regatta, either the way of raising subscriptions, selling tickets or securing advertisements in the official program.

entirely and snappishly taken up with some chalk marks on the asphalt path.

"I'd like to know what the park police are paid for, if hoodlums are to be allowed to deface public property like this. I suppose these lines have some disgraceful, double meaning, and if I had my way I'd thrash the life out of—"

He was such a tiny hoodlum that only his white kilts and the ribbon that tied his curls sideways conveyed the superiority of sex, and he was still too babyfaced to have any meaning for making the lines—much less a double one—the man just walked ahead and asked the wife when she'd she suppose they meant to clean the Jackson statue.

The first move toward making the middle states regatta of next September a huge success was started Wednesday by its sponsor, the Potomac Boat Club, and from now on it is expected the machinery will be kept running constantly.

The committee that went to New York to present the claims of Washington, through its chairman, Claud R. Zappone, made an exhaustive report on the various details of the important aquatic meeting, and stated that it was the consensus of all the rowing men of both the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen, as well as the Middle States Association, that it would be the greatest gathering of oarsmen and scullers America ever has witnessed.

The Middle States Association deemed it wise to defer the ordering of regatta until after the general details of the regatta were worked out, and will not publish it until the morning of July 4, when they will have a meeting at Philadelphia during the time of the annual people's regatta on the Schuylkill river.